PART 3 RESEARCH & COMMENTARY BY BILL WEAVER

INTRODUCTION

September 1, 2008 Comment by Chuck-JOHNEL: Let me take a moment to introduce Bill Weaver's research and commentary about the Tiny Star. Bill Weaver unearthed the historic facts in this section. His research shows some interesting characteristics of comets:

- Comets have tails consisting of debris, rock, dust, and ice.
- When comets pass through the earth's path (or when the earth moves through a comet's tail) this debris falls on earth.

The Tiny Star: Review & Update

- The phenomenon of the comet-associated debris falling on the earth explains how mud or dust falls from the skies.
- The occurrence of many meteors falling to earth can spring from comet tails.
- When space bodies (such as comets) pass near the earth, they can also trigger earthquakes, floods, etc.

It is worth noting that the passing nearby of an asteroid in 1989 parallels almost exactly the earthquake in SAN FRANCISCO—it is now common knowledge among earth scientists that most earthquakes quakes happen during full moon (although not all do)—again suggesting that the gravitational pull of space bodies near the earth can trigger quakes as well as volcanic eruptions, or both. I have elected to share this information to simply underline the fact that there is a history of such past disasters caused by space objects, either passing by the earth or falling to earth—lest anyone come to think that a Tiny Star is somehow A WAY OUT of things. It is most definitely NOT A WAY OUT!

Such space objects have encountered the earth before, only few of us know anything about the past record on this subject. Bill Weaver’s report is an excellent lacing together of both God’s revelations with scientific fact with actual discoveries made by astronomers. These facts go a long way to confirm the “IMMINENT DANGERS” that Jesus spoke of in those years, and how in that time PRAYER CHANGED the outcome. Remember, at the time (1982–1983) we moved in the call of God to pray by faith, believing God’s Word without so much as a hint of evidence of these things being “really out there”. I can state plainly that while I have always had an interest in outer space, I also lacked any kind of knowledge of space at the same time. Often what Jesus showed me and told me was bewildering to me personally—the possibility of such things ever happening never really entered my mind and what God was showing me was so far beyond my understanding, that I found it difficult to explain what I had seen in the visions from God. I had never seen anything like it before.

I have purposefully reproduced here Bill’s text exactly as he wrote it, with the exception of the addition some headers for clarification. So, bearing all that mind, here follow Bill’s commentary and research . . .

LET’S PAUSE & REFLECT

Let’s pause here to reflect and to refine our thinking on this:

- Keep in mind, the Prophet’s call is to keep His people INFORMED, otherwise “. . . MY PEOPLE ARE GONE INTO CAPTIVITY, BECAUSE THEY HAVE NO KNOWLEDGE, AND

The Tiny Star: Review & Update

THEIR HONORABLE MEN ARE FAMISHED [lack of the Word] AND THEIR MULTITUDE DRIED UP WITH THIRST.” (Is. 5:13).

- Too many ministries look at prophecy in terms of what they SEE happening on earth, in the physical realm (the flesh), but fail to see it first in the Spirit. Anything that happens on earth, happened beforehand in the spirit realm. When God shows you something in the Spirit, then you can DO something about it, but when it has already happened in the earth-realm, it is TOO LATE to do anything about it (prayer).
- “NOW WE HAVE RECEIVED, NOT THE SPIRIT OF THE WORLD, BUT THE SPIRIT WHICH IS OF GOD, THAT WE MIGHT KNOW THE THINGS THAT ARE FREELY GIVEN TO US OF GOD.” (1 Cor. 13:12, also see 1 Cor. 13: 13–14).
- The signs are all there, given freely of God. The prophecies today are warnings. These things will come, but Satan is pushing them into being BEFORE THEIR TIME. Prayer warriors must intercede to stop pre-mature “fly-bys” and/or direct hits of “tiny stars” on earth.

THE TINY SUN AS DESCRIBED BY CHUCK-JOHNEL

THE TINY STAR (a partial transcript from cassette-tape recording by Chuck-JOHNEL Youngbrandt, August 1991):

[QUOTE] In 1982, I was on the road headed towards Corpus Christi, Texas, traveling across the United States seeing people. I had a vision which was quite startling. The Lord showed me something coming in the sky. In this vision it was a beautiful clear sunny day and in a flash it was nighttime. I noticed there was this very bright star in the sky. It was not the North Star. The North Star was never in that position. It was the day sky again and this time I could see there were two suns in the sky, which was a bit startling: our sun and a much smaller one. Then days passed in this vision rather quickly and that smaller sun kept getting bigger and bigger, and at night it was very bright. In the daytime it was seen as a sun.

I asked the Lord what this was. He showed me this thing in space heading on a collision course for the earth. He showed me a vision of what He would do if it was not stopped. Because I asked the Lord what it was, He showed me what would happen. As it neared the earth, there was quite an effort to stop it. At the time there may have been a major war going on, because everybody stopped fighting each other. They realized that they had better do something about this thing and I did see in the vision an attempt by governments to deflect and destroy it. They actually fired missiles into space with hydrogen warheads. I mean multi-ones. It didn't even dent it. It just kept coming and I knew it was hopeless to stop it that way, but they were trying anything they could. It was a Soviet Russian, U.S., and European nations combined effort.

The Tiny Star: Review & Update

Then I saw this thing approach the earth. The Lord showed me two visions or two ways it could go. If it got to a certain point it would come towards the earth and enter into the atmosphere. There were a lot of clouds in the sky. The clouds vaporized because it was a ball of fire, intensely hot. It must have been at least a couple of hundred miles above the earth. Even the atmosphere above the clouds vaporized and when it entered the earth's atmosphere, I saw the whole Gulf of Mexico start boiling. The water was boiling. It came over Corpus Christi almost directly and as it did the whole city was sucked into the air and incinerated. I saw buildings pulled out of the ground as it went overhead and it flew across the United States diagonally. It landed somewhere in Canada. It left a destructive path 300-miles wide and everything in its path was incinerated. Rivers would suddenly dry up into steam, instantly. Trees withered and burst into flames. Fields were devastated. It made quite an impression on me. Then the Lord showed it could be deflected away from the earth if there was prayer and He showed me with two other prophets standing in front of it to deflect it. I didn't like the position we were in.

As Jesus would reveal that another Tiny Star was generated against the Earth, the Net of Prayer took up the call to pray and endured in prayer-intercession for several years. In 1988 JESUS told us that our prayers had been answered and that this Tiny Star was nudged whereas it would miss the earth. In 1989, an asteroid which was 3/4th of a mile wide zipped past earth, just barely missing our planet. This was reported in the news at the time. [UNQUOTE]

BOLIDES

In 1986, Chuck-JOHNEL saw the TINY STAR as a huge asteroid (rocky and metallic object). However, it could be a BOLIDE or fireball, which is an extremely bright meteor. A meteor is composed of iron, nickel, and silicon, but a bolide consists of ammonia, carbon or cyalogen. They will ignite upon heating at a HIGH TEMPERATURE and EXPLODE in a vast, chemical explosion causing a concussion and much noise.

Bolides have occurred in recent times and one fell to earth on June 30, 1908. Estimated to be 400 yards in diameter and seen over much of Siberia, it resulted in much FRICTION that triggered a vast CHEMICAL EXPLOSION (hence called fireball) equal to the force of a thermonuclear devise and resulting in SHOCK WAVES. Trees were FLASH-BURNED for a radius of miles from the point of explosion. It fell on an unpopulated area and had it fallen in the same latitude by four hours later, St. Petersburg (Leningrad) then a city of 1,500,000 would have suffered a fiery fate costing the lives of thousands and perhaps millions of people.

Keep in mind that in 1989, an asteroid passed very close to earth and the earth was in the same spot 6-hours earlier. Astronomers did not see it coming until it passed. If this "tiny star" is matter and frozen ice (chemicals) it could explode and fragment. It could devastate life on earth.

The Tiny Star: Review & Update

MORE BIG BANGS

- In July 1991, I read a news article about 1990 UM The article noted that 1990 UM was a 100-meter long star and was approaching the earth at a speed of 180,000 kilometers per hour (50 kilometers per second). It will collide with the earth in two year's time (or, by 1993). The article went on to note that the force of the collision would be so great that earthquakes and tidal floods will occur as a result. A tremendous cloud of dust will rise which could even cloud over the sun and plunge the earth into an eternal winter.
- In August 1991, I read another news article that had a headline that said something like, "EARTH MAY BE IN FOR BIG BANG." The article went on to report that astronomers had grown increasingly concerned in recent years that one or more of the lumbering rocks (asteroids) hurling around in the heavens may be on a catastrophic collision-course with Earth. The article also reports that scientists believed that, sooner or later, the earth was going to be struck by a fairly large asteroid. The article also described comets, noting they are like asteroids, only they are luminous. Many comets are hidden by the blinding sun and can approach the earth without detection. The article described some scary near-misses with comets, including a comet that whizzed only 3 million miles over Kansas City in 1983 and an 800-foot asteroid was not detected until it had flashed by the planet at a very close 500,000 miles The article also noted that in 1989 a major earthquake struck San Francisco and at this time an asteroid passed close to earth within 400,000 miles. Actually earth was in the same spot six hours earlier and it was not seen coming until after it passed by.

September 1, 2008 Comment by Chuck-JOHNEL: The Net of Prayer continued to intercede to block these space objects from hitting the earth. One by one, our prayers were answered by FATHER GOD and so they missed our planet, but the indifference and unbelief in the church only seemed to grow deeper.

TIMELINE OF HISTORIC METEOR-RELATED EVENTS

AUGUST 27, 1886

A fiery meteor sailed over southern Europe and a violent earthquake followed in Greece. Tremendous torrents of water, literally RIVERS FROM THE SKY, CARRIED OFF PEOPLE, CATTLE, HOMES, AND BRIDGES. There were EARTHQUAKES at Srinagar, Kashmir, Italy, and Malta. Mt. Vesuvius increased eruptions. Inky clouds were reported over the Mediterranean. Also reported was, a BLAZING METEOR WITH A TAIL OR LIGHT FROM A VOLCANO seen in the skies over Greece.

The Tiny Star: Review & Update

AUGUST 31, 1886

Just before the sun set it was eclipsed by a mass of inky black clouds. There followed a display of luminous clouds. Meteors appeared in the sky, first moving slowly, then streaking at fantastic speeds. Suddenly, directly beneath the streaking meteors, Charleston, South Carolina, was devastated by a massive earthquake that covered millions of square miles.

SEPTEMBER 4, 1886

The ground still shook and it was reported that was volcanic dust shifting down “from somewhere” out of a blackened sky at Wilmington, North Carolina.

SEPTEMBER 5, 1886

Two brilliant fireballs with luminous tails were seen and then another severe earthquake hit Charleston. A few short minutes later it was reported that, “A large comet or brilliant meteor followed by a long tail of fire streaked into Charleston, and at Columbia, two more brilliant meteors were seen at the same time . . .”

SEPTEMBER 8, 1886

A strange, dark, and heavy cloud hung off the South Carolina coast. Meteors continued falling throughout September and October as the Charleston area continued quaking.

OCTOBER 22, 1886

50 meteors fall on Charleston during a severe quake. The next night, at midnight, something exploded with titanic force over Atlanta, Georgia. It was reported as “. . . A METEOR OF HUGE DIMENSIONS.”

NOVEMBER 12, 1901

Everywhere in Australia (except Queensland) showers of dust and mud fell from the sky. The debris was illuminated. Glaring light penetrated the densest darkness as fire fell from the sky with dust and mud. Balls of fire set fire to houses in Victoria.

NOVEMBER 13, 1901

There was a terrific meteoric explosion at Parramatta, Australia, and a new comet was discovered as the huge meteor exploded. Then a fireball falls and explodes horrendously at Carcoar. Also, heavy falls of sulphurous smelling ash in New Zealand.

The Tiny Star: Review & Update

NOVEMBER 14, 1901

Heavy clouds of smoke rolled in from the sea onto northern Australia and Queensland. A “sticky and bituminous substance” fell from the skies. In another place, “A light fluffy, gray material” fell in 50 darkened, stifled towns. “Business was suspended with people stumbling around with lanterns.”

NOVEMBER 18, 1901

At Murrumburrah (New South Wales), a huge fireball came down in a rain of red dust from the skies.

NOVEMBER 19, 1901

Balls of fire and rains of ashes burned down on five towns. Heavy smoke poured across the island of Java, while the earth quaked violently. At Mysore, India, a huge, evil-smelling meteorite fell during a deluge and seven bridges were washed out.

NOVEMBER 20 & 21, 1901

Another fireball the size of the sun, at night illuminated a whole string of towns and cities. 24-hours later, a terrific explosion occurred as something blew itself to bits over Ipswich. Then came many falls of red dust and purple rain all along the West Coast of Africa, Europe, and England. It lasted for two weeks.

NOVEMBER 22, 1901

Another fireball with a long, luminous tail flew slowly over the town of Nyngan, Australia, “intensely illuminating the sky and ground.”

NOVEMBER 25, 1901

The dense clouds of smoke between Australia and the Philippines delayed shipping until November 25, 1901.

FEBRUARY 16, 1902

The blackest of pitch-dark nights, mud and dust fell from the skies over New South Wales and Victoria. Sheer volume of the stuff was overwhelming. Two days later in West Africa and Europe, still more great volumes of dust and mud came down from the sky. Keep in mind, there was no known volcanic eruption anywhere on earth at this time, but there was a new comet. Within a period of one month, virtually every important volcano on earth roared to life:

- La Soufriere, St. Vincent-death toll: 1,500.
- Mt. Pelee, Martinique-death toll: 30,000.

The Tiny Star: Review & Update

SEPTEMBER 8, 1905

At Calabria, Italy, a comet with a long luminous tail was seen in the vicinity of the moon. This sighting was followed by a tremendous fall of meteors. Then, 3/4s of an hour later, at the same place came a massive meteor which exploded deep in the ground. A shock-wave spread outward and demolished 4,600 buildings and 4,000 people were killed. During this time a quake struck Calabria and Palermo. While Calabria was quaking, drowning, and under attack by meteors, Indians near Lahore (India) were praying for rain. The land was parched and the people were suffering from drought in a town called Sind. Then the rain came and most of the homes were smashed in the tidal wave of water.

SEPTEMBER 15, 1905

Thousands of homes were destroyed in the flood. At this season it was unprecedented and everyone was taken by surprise. Then came the earthquake, mixing water with dust from the earth. At the time, a new comet had been discovered.

REFLECTIONS ON THE TIMELINE

September 1, 2008 Comment by Chuck-JOHNEL: Over the years, I learned that an accepted scientific doctrine held by many astrophysicists was that cataclysmic events do not happen and that changes in the earth are gradual, rather than being caused by forceful events of magnitude (such as a asteroid collision).

In effect, scientists have debunked the Biblical account of the Great Flood, the destruction of Sodom and Gomorrah, and other such cataclysmic events. Yet, not only the Biblical record, but also the historic record say otherwise.
